A classic touch

Latest news

Fact File

- Project: Farmhouse interiors
- Client: Mr & Mrs Bansal
- Location: Chattarpur Farms, New Delhi, India
- Design Firm: Moi Den Interiors
- Designer: Vandana Goyal
- Built-up Area: 5400 sq.ft.

This luxurious farmhouse located in New Delhi by Moi Den Interiors achieves the perfect harmony of chic sophistication. Composed of rectilinear volumes and marble façade, this farmhouse is meant to feel expansive and fluid, while also conveying a sense of containment. The contemporary yet classic farmhouse is surrounded by sheer luxury and expansive landscape, the design embodies the principles-creating a home of experiences. Modern lively accents complement the sleek gold tones displayed in this lavish space.

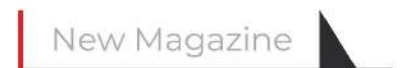

Moi Den interiors gave the expansive foyer, triangular patterned flooring using marble inlay. Alongside the door, a jail in mild steel is given a gold-coated finish. The light colour palette and glass doors create an illusion of space, truly making this the favourite place in this abode.

The master bedroom on the ground floor is designed using a colour combination of beige and brown tones which adds a tone of simplicity. Metal strips with textured wallpaper are used behind the bed to give it a luxurious and glamorous look yet keeping it minimalistic. The use of L shaped wooden panelling with grooves is given towards the end of the bedroom which gives it an illusion of separating the bed and the sitting area in the bedroom. The attached bathroom is given a bright and harmonious colour palette combining clean lines with a contemporary, decorative taste inspired by the timeless collection of marbles.

Fascinating marble-clad vanity stands out as the extravagant beauty of this bathroom. Wall stretched wardrobe with modern designer glass shutters is a perfect match.

The main bedroom on the first floor is designed with a splash of colours to add some vibrancy and brightness into the inhabitants' daily lives. The wooden back panelling in a light oak colour with a blue and burnt orange velvet fabric makes it the perfect contrast.

The bathroom is designed keeping the client's brief of making it look very appealing yet keeping the colour palette light and easy on the eye. The use of grey marble with white Satvario makes it the perfect treat to the eyes & the use of cove lights in the shower area, further enhances the serene look.
